To address questions posed by Pat McKnight, Heinig stated that other materials would be considered in the creation of murals, as well as modifications for other specific ideas and requests that are made in the future. D were built to DNR standards for a two-inch rain but stronger rains have caused culverts to backup. He explained that several of the lowest homes in the area have yards that are actually below the elevation of retention ponds so these issues are causing basements to flood. In order to assist the residents, this study would indicate which size culverts would need to be installed to address those issues, as well as assist those specific homeowners to make landscaping modifications. The culvert modifications will be included in the proposed 2020 stormwater budget. The motion carried unanimously.
